The Ice House is Discovered!

The exploration by South Trafford Archaeological Group was designed to discover whether we have an ice house buried within the mound at the top of the park near to its southern boundary with Altrincham Church of England School – and to seek elements of the base of the model ‘temple’ which was on this site. There was a good deal of interest from people enjoying time on the park – many had stories to tell and accounts of beliefs about the mound that had been shared with them by friends and relatives who have known the park.

The Ice House is confirmed – and it is well preserved! Most of the dig has been filled in, but the semicircle of bricks, which formed the base of the temple, has been left uncovered so that the bricks might be seen. If you'd like to know more about the temple, and see an old photograph of it, our history booklets are available at Oldfield Brow post office, price £2, or from us, (see contact details back page).

Winter and its weather slow things down: lots of rain brings an annual lake, snow is always welcome when it comes and goes, and all those leaves have to be tidied away. But HEALTH WALKS continue every Monday at 10.30am. Meet at The Bowling Pavilion. All welcome.

BOWLING can start again from the end of March: social bowling Mondays 6.30pm. Saturdays 2pm.

Why don't you join us?
